

Fatherhood

Brock Gorman
August 5th, 2018

What is or was the Vision you have for your children? Destiny requires intentional processing and execution. Pointlessness awaits the undirected.

Prov 29:18

The greatest commandments leads to the purpose and core foundation of the vision for our children. To love God with everything and love others how you would like to be loved.

God's ultimate gift of understanding His love is to experience close intimate relationships with others, in family, in marriage and in parenthood. Why is the world bent on the destruction of these relationships? Because it is God's DNA to be family. We are to impress God's heart onto others, especially our children.

Deut 6:6,7

As parents we are ultimately responsible for the raising of our children's heart. They must know the Father's heart and to live by his decrees. Long life comes with this as a promise.

Deut 6:2, Malachi 4:5.6

Brokenness abounds and God truly shows that his heart is for restoring the broken. Look at the life of David. Conceived out of wedlock, generational sins afflicted his marriages and children, yet he finishes his life with God saying that David had a heart like He did. Incredible.

Psalms 51:5

We all have experience God's love when we felt like we did not deserve it. Let us do the same.