

1. It seems in the gospels that Jesus rarely (if ever) referenced the political climate of his day. It also seems like the majority of the church is very politically focused (especially many prophetic voices). Should the church be responding differently when considering how Jesus lived?
2. We claim to be a prophetic church, and right now all the prophets are calling churches to intercede for a Trump win. Why are we not doing this?
3. How should we be praying right now in the current political mess?
4. If Joe Biden wins should we view all the prophets including Jeremiah Johnson as "false prophets"?
5. Why does Justin never talk about politics? Are you afraid of losing your governmental tax status?
6. Is it wrong to be involved in public demonstrations that condemn or slander the government?
